

Principals/Directors of KCKs Public Schools - 1868-2006

by Patricia Adams

The Kansas City, Kansas Public School system has had over 140 buildings that have been used for the education of our children, from the beginning in 1844 through the present time in 2005. Mergers, annexations, population shifts, etc. have contributed to the development of our school system. Within the walls of those buildings, students, staff members, and patrons have walked and supported the academic growth of our community. Listed below are the names of those superintendents, principals and/or directors who have participated in educating our children. The list is not all inclusive and some records from the past are gone; the spelling is as we found it and may or may not be correct.

Major Annexations: Argentine (1909/1910), Rosedale (1922), Fairfax (1963), Washington District (1967). Individual or small annexations occurred at different periods.
